OAKWOOD COLLEGE LIBRARY HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA

Many of the so-called treasures of life perish at a wink; some few endure forever. Among the lasting treasures is the cherished memory of some influential teacher. These cherished memories are as enduring as time.

When we think of such a teacher, we think of one possessing all the virtues of a noble character.

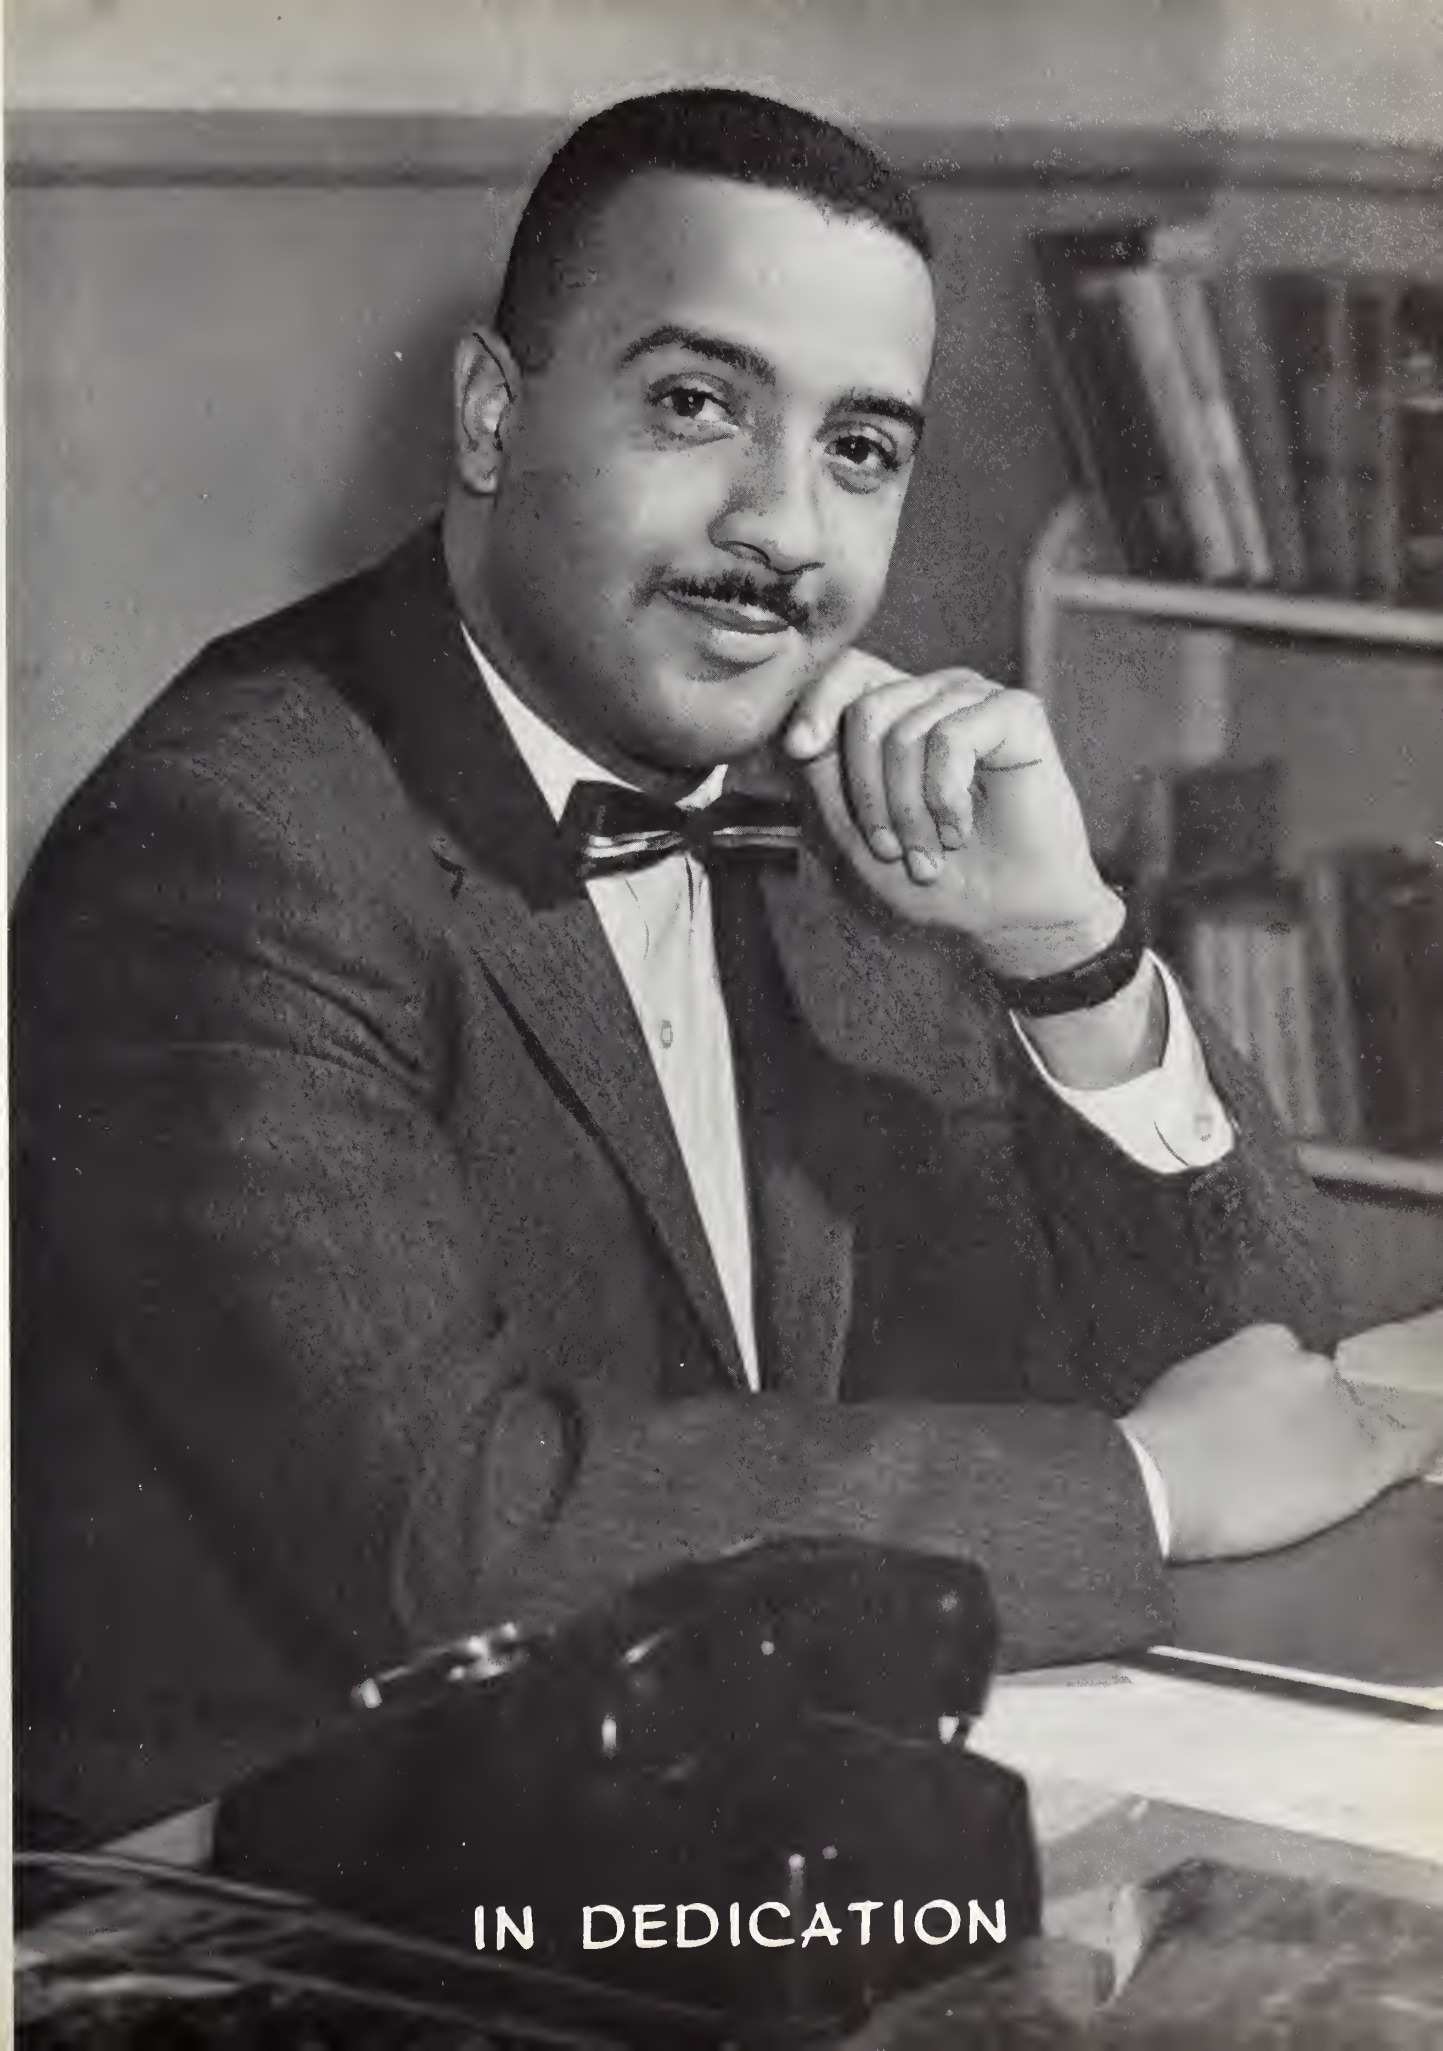

For this reason, we pause here on these pages to pay tribute to a member of our faculty who exemplifies the sterling qualities of a Christlike character.

Scholarly dignity is inherent in his noble stature. In the classroom, he is a dynamo of enthusiasm. In public relations, he is a monument of dedicated service. In the home, he is the symbol of love and manly virtue.

To you, Dr. Frank W. Hale, we affectionately dedicate this volume to express our gratitude for the contribution you have made in making our lives richer.

IN DEDICATION

MR. GAINES R. PARTRIDGE

IN DEDICATION

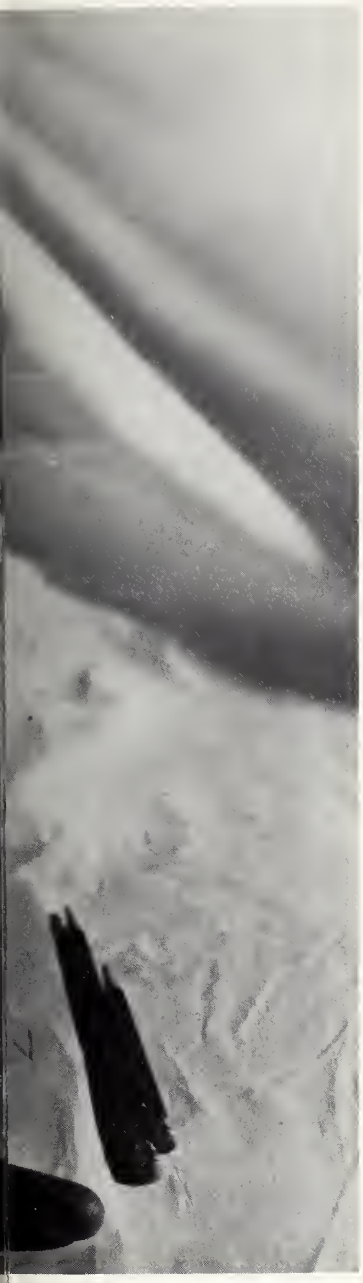

It is an honor to pay tribute to one whose years of inestimable service to Oakwood College have endeared him to both students and faculty alike.

Outstanding leadership in the Sabbath School, superb instruction in psychology, education, and art classes, and capable co-ordination of student activities are only small indications as to his full contribution; cheerful friendliness, eagerness to help, and never-failing capability, efficiency, and human warmth are inadequate terms to reveal his life fully.

Though the world may never know him, and though the great may never recognize him, those who know, love, and respect him as we do can never forget him. It is with deepest appreciation that we, the student body, dedicate the 1958 Acorn to MR. GAINES R. PARTRIDGE.

ADMINISTRATION

The personal interest in their work, training, capability, and hard work of our very fine staff and administration explain the tremendous success of our educational program here at Oakwood College.

During helpful counseling sessions, enjoyable class periods, friendly personal contacts, and invigorating labor activities we have come to know and love those who constitute our ADMINISTRATON.

Oakwood College
Office of the President
Huntsville, Alabama

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The rushing days of 1958-59 have brought modern Oakwoodites a variety of joyous experiences. As we look back over the year, our minds dwell on the classes, the programs, the awards, chapels, and social activities.

The achievement of regional accreditation brought great satisfaction to all. Memories merge in a panorama of many thrilling things--vespers, weeks of prayer, friendships formed, problems solved, impressions deeply grooved.

Fortunate are those students who sought to make their "student life as perfect as possible," and commendably wise are they who intelligently coordinated their million mental snapshots of the swift moving semesters.

The objective of the round of activities is a rooting in truth, a growth in culture, and a preparation for service. Like the 136 half-ton bolts which firmly fix the fifty-story towers of the mighty Mackinac Bridge, may each day, class, and experience of this academic year serve to anchor you in the principles of enduring truth.

Eight faculty members now enjoy the comforts of modern duplex homes, newly constructed on Oakwood's north hill. Yet they find pleasure in reminiscent thoughts of their former abode.

The joys of life would be made less,
Our warmth would soon grow cold;
If while we revelled in the new
We'd cast aside the old.

RELIGION

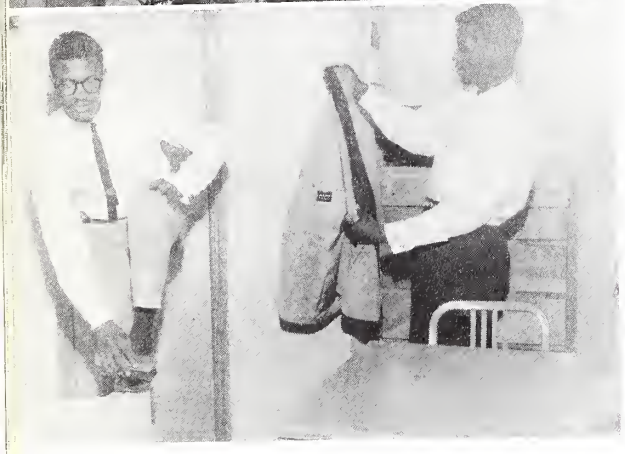

The emphasis placed on religion and spiritual development is a prominent feature of Oakwood's educational program. It stands as the foundation for the training offered to the students.

In the next few pages have been concentrated our many religious activities as one link in the golden chain of memories of this year at O.C.

Last minute preparation for Friday Evening Vespers. Hattie puts a last minute touch to her dress; Gerry dashes a few strokes across her shoes.

The fellows hasten to get ready for vespers, also, Claude must have an extra "shine" on his shoes. Let's see . . . which tie shall it be? Hum! Don't you hear those vesper bells?

They are ready for vespers, and on time too!

Everybody looks forward to vesper services.

Many students enjoy going to Seminar forty-five minutes after vesper service. The last service of the evening is the Evangeleers, conducted by the ministerial students.

KINDERGARTEN SABBATH SCHOOL — "Jesus loves me this I know," yes, it's the same song you knew in Kindergarten, but it is still as true as it was then.

FACULTY SABBATH SCHOOL CLASS — Years of Bible study, research, and experience are brought together in this faculty Sabbath school class.

OUR COLLEGE CHURCH AT WORSHIP — These are the immortal moments — these periods of solitude. These are the gifts we gain in waiting: courage and strength and good cheer. These are the things we need for living, and we cannot fail to find them here.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEER PANEL DISCUSSION — We are greatly benefited when we can see and hear our schoolmates enact and discuss pertinent truths, and current issues.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

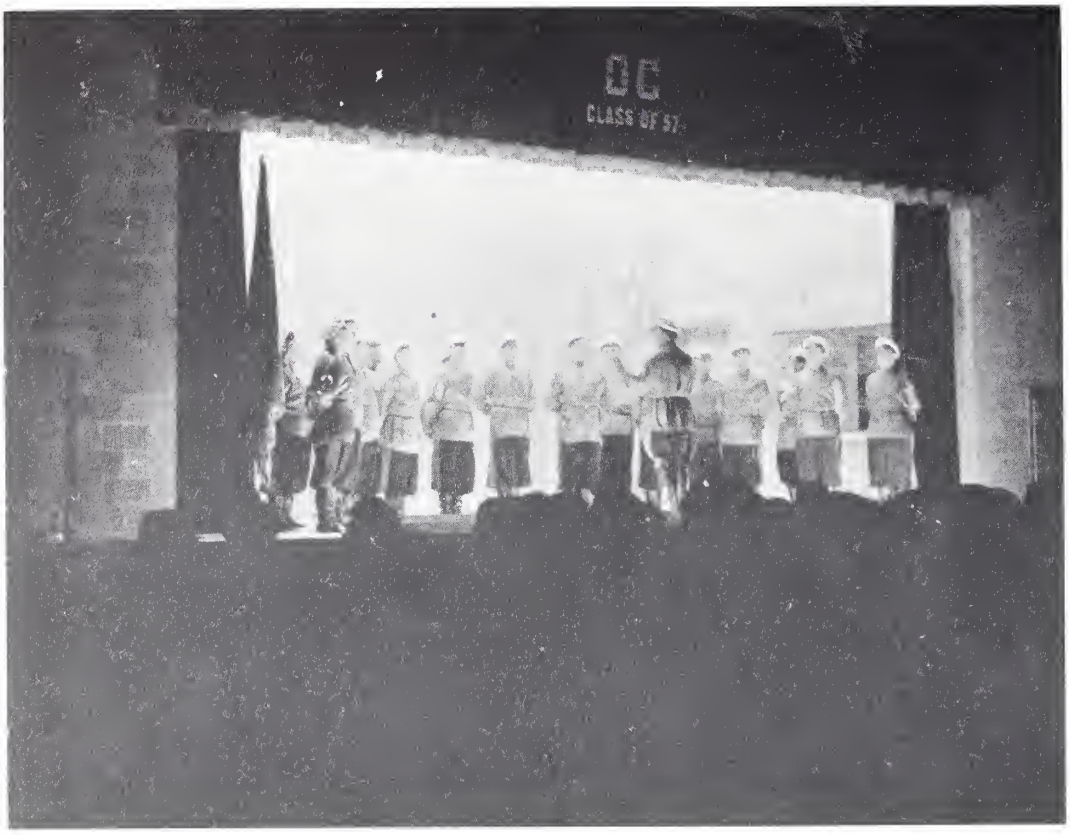

Will there ever be any memories brighter than those of the hours spent in the varied social activities of the old Alma Mater?

There are the lyceums, banquets, and simple get-togethers, all made more enjoyable by the wise planning of the student body and the faculty. In the proceeding pages we will try to give you a brief glimpse into the social activities of our school.

ORGANIZATIONS

Campus clubs and organizations offer excellent opportunity for those who share common interests to pursue common goals and activities together. The contribution of all these very fine organizations "to life at Oakwood" has helped to make this year such an enjoyable one, and one that we will always remember.

UNITED

Our United Student Movement is composed of two major committees: the student senate, and the student faculty committees.

The U. S. M. upholds Lincoln's belief that "The same laws are found everywhere, and everything is connected with everything else . . . ." For this reason they make themselves the connecting link between student and instructor, student and administrator, student and student.

U.S.M. Officers — 1958
Charles Bridges, President

Out of our lives is drawn the best and the most noble and into our hearts is planted a lofty aspiration, and all of this is only a part of what we gained from co-operating with our U. S. M. All-in-all the success of our United Student Movement can be traced to their determined efforts to make our campus the most lovely place, in every way, for us.

Garland Millet, President of the 1959 U.S.M. gets a little opposition as he presents a radical idea to the officers of the U.S.M.

STUDENT MOVEMENT

"If you are a self-starter, your boss doesn't have to be a crank" . . . Buck Herzog — Here are some instances of work started—self-started, in the workshop of student thought: increased satisfaction in cafeteria service; the 1958 United Student Movement banquet; our recent U. S. M. Honor Society of scholarships and privileges; basketball games for the purpose of raising funds for worthy projects. This year our U. S. M. has proven that "What makes the world go round is the temptation to attempt something that can't be done, and succeed." — Information

1959 STUDENT FACULTY COUNCIL
THE CONNECTING LINK IN THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The function of these Student Representative councils is so inter-related that, it would be impossible to distinctly differentiate between the accomplishments of each.

During the holidays, the U. S. M. features activities for those who remain on the campus. Noteworthy of these activities is the Christmas movie. Also there was a motion picture presented by the U. S. M. during the Thanksgiving holidays.

INDUSTRIES

Columbus' ships drifted up to the shores of America, and we say that's discovery. Our early pioneers braved the wild, and won their freedom from the mother country; we called that independence. Then came the inventors with their apparatus and machines, and we said this is industry.

Oakwood College was built upon industry, for only full opportunities in work, books and play could satisfy our eagerness and vigor.

FEATURES

The best in life can neither be analyzed nor classified.

In this section of our yearbook we have placed those events and characters which would only fit into a setting all their own.

A baker would spice his cakes with these. A seamstress would use them as lace on her own daughter's finest dress. A carpenter would use them to make his house fashionable. But we have used these to give an unpretentious, and informal view into our school life.

CLASSES

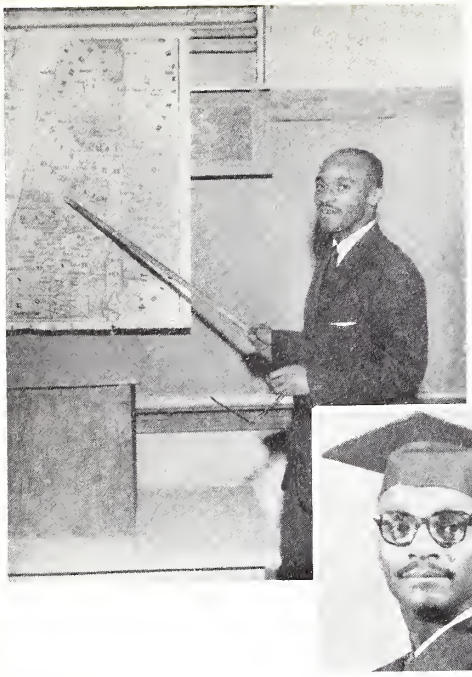

Here at Oakwood College it is our controlling purpose to gain that education of the heart which can only be attained through the union of the human with the divine, through determined effort, sacrifice and hard work. We don't deny that sometimes we weary of our goal; but, "There will be need for someone great—I dare not falter from the line — ."

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It seems as though the poet was writing particularly to the citizens of today's world when he penned the lines:

"We are living, we are dwelling
In a grand, and awful time;
In an age of ages telling
To be living is sublime."

In this year of phenomenal advancement in research and discovery with regard to guided missiles and earth satellites, not a few professional educators and layman are seeking an answer to the question, "What is the essential education for this time?"

One inspired educator has succinctly stated that "true education embraces physical, mental, and moral training, in order that all the powers shall be fitted for the best development to do service for God, and to work for the uplifting of humanity."

From its very beginning, Oakwood College Academy has subscribed to this philosophy of Christian Education, the implementation of which is designed to meet the needs of youth in an ever changing world.

To all youth who are desirous of securing an education which will prepare them both for joy of service in this world, and for the higher joy of wide service in the world to come, Oakwood College Academy extends a cordial welcome.

To the Academy graduate of 1958, your staff and administration bids you a fond farewell. As you leave your Alma Mater, we trust that your lives may be both an unfolding of the principles of True Education, and may you continually "grow in wisdom, and in favor with God and man."

GOING PLACES ?

When you doff that cap and gown, what then?

For most graduates, the end of college is only the beginning of life . . . a life for which you have spent many valuable years in preparation.

If your major is business or engineering, and if you are interested in connecting with a Christian (SDA) organization, may we suggest that you think seriously about ACE?

As a recognized leader in the machine tool industry, ACE is looking for above-average college graduates for well-paying positions of responsibility. Its international ramifications offer a variety of unusual and interesting opportunities.

A letter to the Personnel Director will bring you full information about openings in many parts of the United States and elsewhere.
